

Basic

There are two elementary schools.

Both have behavior problems.

So class is noisy and teachers are worry about teaching.

But all 6 grade elementary school students must try to National scholarship test on every April.

I am interested in the results of those two elementary schools.

One is bad (bottom level), other is normal (middle level).

What is difference between the two?

I try to research about their teaching.

I find a little difference.

One elementary school teaches "Writing", other is normal.

If students can read and write easily, they understand what teachers say.

If students can read and write easily, they answer National scholarship test.

If students can read and write easily, behavior problems of this school will improve.

I insist on the importance of basic!
