

Morals

The paper shows two topics that I am interested.

The first is "Reckless driving". (aori-unten)

Though accused person was advised with rough words at service era, his behavior that he made family car stop on the high way was terrible and strange.

The next is "Halloween at Shibuya".

The manner of person who wears fancy dress was so bad!

The action of turning over small track is not believed and this is not Japanese behaviors.

Police arrested 4 persons and investigated some foreigners.

The foreigner told "I thought I was allowed that action at Shibuya."

I felt so sad because Japan is seen like that.

I am afraid that two accidents are due to the lack of morals study.

If morals study is perfect, that accident will happen.

I think a cause is difference.

This topic doesn't clear me on this week.
