

Slowly

There is a pupil who is a little mental retardation and growing handicap near my house.

Some years ago, when he was 1st. grade, he was naughty and restless, perhaps ADHD.

He always ran, cry, broke.

I worried about his future.

But recently he is calm, silent, so good boy!

Last week, neighborhood shrine festival was open.

I took children living my residence to the shrine.

He and us sat and pray in front of GOD

He was able to sit and pray with silence.

I understand he has grown and become nice boy.

I think child has own growing speed.

His speed is slow compare with others, but don't worry.

He will become good JHS student soon.
